Guidelines for citing materials from the World Wide Web

To cite a file that is available for viewing or downloading via the work wide web, you should provide the following information in your literature cited section:

- Author’s name
- Date of publication or last revision
- Title of document
- Title of complete work, if relevant
- URL (web address), in angle brackets
- Date of access

The citation itself in the text of your poster or paper should still be (Author, year).

The following list shows example entries in the Literature Cited section of a paper for various types of World Wide Web sources:

Personal Site:

Professional Site:

Article in an electronic journal:

Newspaper Article

Government Publication